Our day begins with devotions

Foreword

We, the staff of the 1962 La Saltianna present to you our book of cherished memories.

Since we realize your school days are a vital and important part in your life, we have attempted, via this book, to make the outstanding events during this school year more permanent in your mind.

Words and pictures alone cannot express our thanks and appreciation to those who have filled our high school days with unforgettable memories.

We hope each page will enable you to relive with us pleasant experiences.

Homeward bound!

Miss Mary E. Carson

Dedication

The Senior Class of Saltsburg Joint High School dedicates the 1962 issue of the La Saltianna to you, Miss Carson.

We are using this means, the dedication of our yearbook, to show our respect and appreciation for the service, guidance, patience and thoughtfulness you have shown toward us during our high school years.

We honor you for your contributions as an active member in school, church, and community affairs.

Proudly we pay tribute to you for your many and untiring efforts for constant betterment of our school and student life.

It is our sincere wish, Miss Carson, that your future will be as rewarding as your past.

Miss Carson views the progress of our magazine campaign.

ERNEST D. SELL
High School Principal

To The Graduating Seniors:

The years you spend in high school seem so very brief when compared to a lifetime. However, brief as they may seem, the memories of your associations at Saltsburg Joint High School will linger with you forever. It is the wish of the faculty and administration that the memories will be pleasant; the manner in which you took advantage of your education opportunities will have a great influence on your thinking when you recall your high school days. I hope the years have been fruitful and that your learning here will spur you to greater things in the years to come.

Sincerely yours,
John R. Coulson

Dear Seniors:

As we view our immediate future, we can see that the person who can think holds the key to success. Therefore, we should consider our high school days as a training period to better prepare us to meet the problems which will be ours. To this end, we should plan our studies in such a manner that will best train us to take up our activities as members of the community where we will live, build our homes, and live our lives.

Sincerely yours,
Ernest D. Sell

"It's for you, Irma."

"Arsenic And Old Lace"

We presented our Senior Class Play entitled, "Arsenic and Old Lace," on Thursday, November 16. The entire action of the play took place in the living room of the Brewster home in Brooklyn. The play was concerned mainly with two old maids, Abby and Martha Brewster, portrayed by Judy Cup and Janice Chakan, and the adventures they encounter with their gentleman lodgers. Their nephew, Teddy Brewster, played by Guy Miller, also plays an important part in their adventures.

Mortimer, Larry Townsend, their nephew from New York is quite concerned with his Aunts' peculiarities and tries to correct them and make them aware of the fact that what they are doing is not only wrong but unlawful too.

Other members of the cast include Dora Werner, who portrayed Elaine Harper; James Stratton, who portrayed Dr. Einstein; Leonard Hess, who played Rev. Dr. Harper; and Jonathan Brewster, who was portrayed by David Hall.

Officers Brophy and Klein were played by John Chakan and Keith Parson. James Murphy portrayed Officer O'Hara. Steve Hruska played the part of Mr. Gibbs. Lieutenant Rooney was portrayed by Victor Tagliati, and Ron Plahs played Mr. Witherspoon.

Our play was a great success. We will always remember it as one of our most memorable events.

Juniors

We, the Junior Class upon realizing the nearness of our long awaited goal, look forward with eager anticipation to our approaching Senior year. Through participation in athletics and various activities, we are endeavoring to round out our personalities and characteristics to meet the challenging world. In preparing for our biggest event, the Prom, we have gained valuable experience from working together with our fellow classmates and shouldering the responsibilities connected with a project of this type.

As we look back on our Junior year, we can take stock of the events which have proved both profitable and enjoyable. With these events still fresh in our minds we can look forward to a Senior year equally memorable.

Freshmen

Upon beginning our high school years as Freshmen, we were filled not only with anticipation and eagerness but with bright enthusiasm.

We will always remember the hours of planning and hard work that went into our annual dance, the "Happy Heart Hop." We are especially proud of it because it represents our first combined effort as a class.

We are looking forward to taking part in athletics and various activities in order to enrich our high school years.

Under the able leadership of our class officers, we will strive to better ourselves as well as our school so that we may benefit our class as well as our country.
